SUBJECT: Second Interview with Complainant [REDACTED]

On 18 November 2011, Reporting Detective Shawn KENNEDY #21270 conducted a second telephonic interview with complainant [REDACTED] for further verification of the address of where the incident occurred. Reporting Detective informed [REDACTED] that based on her prior direction of travel, no matching location was identified in the area. [REDACTED] said from what she could recall, the officers drove S/B on Halsted to 35th Street; E/B on 35th Street across the expressway; and made two right turns in the next one or two blocks. They then parked under a secluded viaduct.

[REDACTED] said she retrieved the phone number to the Internal Affairs Division from the Internet. After she made the complaint, a female call taker informed her she would call her back in 20 minutes. [REDACTED] said she never heard back from her, or from anyone else until Reporting Detective contacted her over a month later. [REDACTED] stated she did not make a police report because she was not called back by the original call taker and she was apprehensive about going into a police station to make a case report.

[REDACTED] said Officer "Miles" partner threw her purse into her unlocked vehicle with the windows down. The partner was being spiteful because of [REDACTED] attitude of being arrested and not being allowed to receive full medical treatment while in the ambulance. [REDACTED] restated that she only had her finger pricked by paramedics prior to being escorted out of the ambulance by the officers.

[REDACTED] said she called her friend Oluwayemisi "Monica" POPOOLA [REDACTED] from the police station to pick her up. According to [REDACTED], the officers allowed her to keep her cell phone to make calls. [REDACTED] said she posted information of her ordeal on her Facebook page while she was still out in the streets waiting for a ride. Her Facebook name is written as: [REDACTED]

[REDACTED] said when her friend "Monica" picked her up around 51st and the Dan Ryan expressway, [REDACTED] told her about the incident. They both rode to the crash [REDACTED] 1049118

site but [REDACTED] vehicle was not longer there. "Monica" then dropped [REDACTED] off at South Shore Hospital where she was x-rayed for neck and back injuries that she sustained during the traffic accident. [REDACTED] said she requested the officers to allow her to be treated on the scene but they refused. [REDACTED] said she told several friends about the incident within a short time of it occurring. She also said the unknown male that was bonded out with her can verify that she got into the police SUV.
